The Cottie & Cake Fund was established in 2011 by Meghan Russ Hampton and her mother, Fran Russ. In 2010, Meghan faced a high-risk pregnancy and gave birth to twin girls, Katelynn (Kate - pronounced "Cake" by big sister, Ella) and Scotlynn (Scottie - "Cottie"). Kate did not survive and Scottie spent 10 weeks at Levine Children's Hospital fighting for her life.

Grateful for the amazing care they received, the Hamptons, along with their family and friends, were motivated to get others involved in supporting the NICN and Charlotte Fetal Care Center - both places where their family witnessed miracles. The Fund supports programs, equipment, and research that directly impacts the lives of other families who are facing similar experiences.

Together, we have made the following possible...

- ♥ Funded webcams for each isolette in the NICN. Families are able to log-in from a phone or computer to view their baby when away from the hospital.

- ♥ Funded specialized equipment needed for intrauterine procedures performed by Dr. Courtney Stephenson at Charlotte Fetal Care Center.

- ♥ Currently supporting upgrades for the six family "sleep rooms" to provide a more comfortable environment for families and fund the necessary medical equipment needed to accommodate families with twins.
- ♥ Currently supporting a NICN bead program, which allows parents to acknowledge and celebrate their infant's journey, emotions, accomplishments, and milestones.
